

Intercultural competences for technical and administrative staff involved in the Joint Bachelor SeaBlue

Staff Week hosted by Parthenope University

General information

Staff Week Title	Intercultural competences for technical and administrative staff involved in the Joint Bachelor SeaBlueE
Abstract:	The Staff Week “Intercultural competences for technical and administrative staff involved in the Joint Bachelor SeaBlueE” will take place from 12 to 14 May 2026 at the University of Naples Parthenope (Italy), in collaboration with the University of Cádiz (Spain) and the University of Gdańsk (Poland). The initiative will bring together technical and administrative staff from UCA, UPN and UG. The Staff Week is designed to strengthen intercultural competences and cross-cultural management skills among staff involved in the implementation and management of the Joint Bachelor in Sustainable Blue Economy (SeaBlueE). Through a combination of preparatory online activities and in-person sessions, participants will explore key aspects of intercultural communication in an international academic environment, while fostering cooperation and mutual understanding across the SEA-EU Alliance. The programme adopts a strongly interactive and practice-oriented approach, combining plenary sessions, facilitated team building activities and group work. Particular emphasis will be placed on the exchange of good practices and on the joint analysis of administrative and support processes related to the SeaBlueE programme, including student enrolment, mobility management and service effectiveness. By the end of the Staff Week, participants will have developed shared strategies and concrete proposals aimed at improving university services within the framework of the Joint Bachelor SeaBlueE, thereby contributing to more effective and inclusive cooperation across the Alliance.
